BOW3512F

BOW3512F- 125 mm tunnel

Good things come in small sizes. VETUS presents the new BOW3512F.

Featuring all the updates of its larger brother, the BOW3512F is suitable for a 125 mm diameter tunnel. This means the powerful BOW3512F can be installed in even smaller boats. The flexible rubber coupling eliminates motor vibrations and the new motor is more energy efficient. To accommodate the flexible coupling, the flange height will increase by 30 mm. Apertures in the flange enable easy checking of the coupling. Last but not least, the flange face will change from triangular to round, allowing the motor to be rotated in steps of 90° as opposed to the current steps of 120°, and creating uniformity in the entire DC bow thruster range. The BOW3512F is available from stock.

Highlights

- Fits a 125 mm tunnel
